

WITH SUMMER SOJOURNERS FROM MAINE TO JERSEY

Tourist Myriads Seek the White Mountains

Climbers Hunt New Summits to Conquer, While Automobiles Purr Along the Trails—New Names on Hotel Registers.

Bretton Woods, N. H., July 3.—The usual influx of tourists in the White Hills for July 4 was greater than ever this year, and all the White Mountain trails out of New York have been filled to capacity. Many society people are opening their cottages this week, and the hotels are entertaining a record number of motorists, many from Bar Harbor and the North Shore making preliminary tours before opening their homes for the summer.

Many notable additions to the White Mountain cottage colonies are being made this year, and one of the most notable ones is that near the Mountain View House, at Whitefield. Here Rear Admiral Hawley, of Washington, plays golf at Mizzenport, where his daughter usually spends the summer with him. The Rev. Dr. Arthur Jenks, of the Episcopal Theological Seminary in New York, has opened The Lodge, following a year's absence. Miss Emma Klahr, of Philadelphia, is at Westover, and Miss Gertrude Walker, also of Philadelphia, opens Pinenot. United States Senator John W. Weeks, of Massachusetts, has a delightful home on the summit of Mount Prospect, which lies between the villages of Whitefield and Lancaster, and commands one of the most wonderful panoramas in the hills, and a neighbor of his, at Prospect Farm, is Congressman Samuel W. McCall, of Massachusetts, who arrives on July 5 with his family for the summer. Clovenport will be occupied, as usual, by Dr. Anna Rondinella, of the faculty of Vassar College.

Mr. and Mrs. Winthrop Murray Sayre, of Brooklyn, with their family, will occupy one of the Sayre cottages at Bethlehem this summer, at the West End, where their other cottages, let to a circle of friends, form a congenial colony.

It is likely that the Carter Harrisons, of Chicago, who spent last summer among the hills, will be again at Chocoma.

Dr. Huntington Richards, of the Hotel Plaza, New York, has arrived at Bretton Woods for the season at the Mount Pleasant House, where Canon J. McDonald McGrath, of the Cincinnati Cathedral, will also spend the summer while acting as rector of the summer parish of the Joseph Stickey Memorial church at Bretton Woods.

Mrs. Clarence Dolan, of Philadelphia, who was of the Waukegan colony at Jefferson last season, may return for August, and Dr. and Mrs. Samuel H. Austin will be numbered among the cottagers. The Walter W. Laws, of Brainerd Manor, New York, have an attractive summer home at Jefferson, on the road to Randolph, where there is a colony of college professors and members of the Appalachian Mountain Club, who go in for strenuous mountain-climbing over the Presidential Range.

The H. J. Bingham, of Chicago, have a summer home at Intervale, where some of the most important musical events of the White Mountain season are given from June to October.

The Bethlehem Country Club's schedule for summer sports announces a weekly handicap golf tournament, with handsome prizes given by the various clubs and members of the club.

There will also be events in tennis, and the country club courts are now in use by early visitors. The English brothers, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. English, are formidable opponents at the country club, where they hold many golf championships. Mrs. N. H. English, also of Bethlehem, who played such excellent golf at Pinehurst, N. C., last season; Miss Leslie Sayre, of Brooklyn, and Miss Helen Porter, of New York, are prominent among scratch players among the women golfers.

Mrs. Elliot Libbey Butler and Miss Butler, of New York, are again at the Mountain View House at Whitefield for the season.

Mr. Gilman, of New York, will spend the summer in Dixville Notch, at the Balsams, where he usually spends a part of his time in the writing of a new book.

Mrs. C. A. Remick, of New York, will arrive this week at The Intervale House for the summer. Intervale guests are driven to church at North Conway on Sundays by Herbert S. Kilduff, in the ancient coach with six-horse hitch, which is still used for daily-ho drives around the mountain resorts.

Mrs. Samuel D. Styles, Mrs. John A. Cook, Mr. and Mrs. E. Hillson, Mrs. James Boyd and Miss Jessie Boyd, Mrs. W. G. Slade, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. McKinley, Mrs. G. Corbett and George J. Corbett and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Owen are prominent among New Yorkers who will spend the summer at the Maplewood Hotel. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Juh-ring, of Brooklyn, are also there for the season. Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Eison and child are at Maplewood Inn, where Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Brigham and Miss Brigham, of New York, are also staying.

Walker, Buckner and family, of New York, will open their cottage at Maplewood this week. Charlie Fink, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Fink, have a cottage at Maplewood, and Murray Kiggins will be of the "old guard" of metropolitan golfers at Maplewood this season. The Maplewood Country Club and the Maplewood Gun Club will be open for Fourth of July festivities, as usual, this year.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Ellis, of Brooklyn, motored to the Mount Pleasant at Bretton Woods for the week end.

The Misses Babcock, of New York, have taken for the season the cottage at the Profile House, known as Draper Cottage, which was occupied during many seasons by the late Governor Draper of Massachusetts.

General and Mrs. W. N. P. Darrow, who have let their cottage at Profile to the Willis S. Paines for July, are now in San Francisco, and will return home over the northern route to take their place at the Profile colony on August 1.

Mr. Arthur Butler Twombly, whose famous picnics are notable hospitalities of the Profile season, will, as usual, be of the most prominent hostesses here this season. Mrs. Henry K. McHarg is already planning some of her famous musicales, and Mrs. Charles Stuart Smith, who has returned from San Francisco, will be one of the season's hostesses.

Judge A. F. Jenks and family, of Brooklyn, will be at the Profile House for the summer, and others of the New York colony there will be Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Burlington, Mrs. W. G. Fleming, who will arrive from California this week; Mr. and Mrs. William C. Sheldon, Mrs. L. J. Belloni and the Misses Belloni, Mrs. D. W. How and Miss How, H. Ray Paige and family, Dr. and Mrs. Gorham Bacon, Mrs. A. Scott Cameron and Mr. and Mrs. Lucien H. Chase.

Mrs. James R. Jerny will come to the Profile from Lenox early in the season, and Mrs. Brayton Ives will be welcomed back after a long absence. Mrs. Metcalf Bliss, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Babcock, of New York, Mrs. Mary Penniman, Miss Anna E. M. Wild, of Rochester, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Fowler, of Port Chester, who come to be near their son, Mr. J. B. Fowler, who have taken a cottage there, and Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Atwood, who will join Mrs. Algren Sidney Jarvis at her cottage, are other important additions to the Profile colony.

The Mount Washington Hotel, at Bretton Woods, which will have its usual representative colony of New Yorkers, will welcome for the opening on the 8th inst. Dr. and Mrs. J. Blake of Madison Avenue, who always make a leisurely motor trip to the Mount Pleasant House until the opening of the larger hotel.

Dr. and Mrs. W. Foster, Mrs. Sippy and Miss C. M. Sippy, Mrs. Palmer and Miss Dexter, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Parke, Henry Budd and family, Mrs. J. Stuart White and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Goodwin, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Litton and the Misses Litton, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Woerz and Miss Woerz will be among New Yorkers arriving early in the season. L. M. Womer and family, L. A. Hamilton and family, Mrs. N. Dyer, Mrs. Jacob Hayes, Mrs. MacPherson, Mr. and Mrs. John Hay and Mrs. R. N. Dyer will also be early metropolitan arrivals at the Mount Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Grundner and Miss Elsa Grundner will arrive early, and Miss Grundner will be a notable addition to the riding set.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles I. Cragin, of New York, who have been spending the spring season at the New Greenbrier, at White Sulphur Springs, will soon arrive at the Mount Washington for the summer.

Mrs. Elliot Libbey Butler and Miss Butler, of New York, are again at the Mountain View House at Whitefield for the season.

Mr. Gilman, of New York, will spend the summer in Dixville Notch, at the Balsams, where he usually spends a part of his time in the writing of a new book.

KINEO CELEBRATES ITS ANNIVERSARY

Mooshead Lake, Me., July 3.—The end of the three days' programme of the Maine Fish and Game Association to-day brought to a climax the celebration of the seventy-first year of Kineo as a resort, which started last Saturday with the visit of the Sir Knights from St. John's Commandery.

Now the place has settled into its normal summer life. Motor boats and canoes are seen about the lake, the fishermen are still intent upon their fun, lovers of golf are daily on the links, horseback riding has many devotees, and all the pleasures of summer are in full operation.

The opening of the Mooshead Lake Yacht Club, postponed from Wednesday, was held to-day, with the officers holding a reception. Announcement was made of the first weekly motor boat race for July 10. Ex-Commodore M. C. Clark, of New York, presented a costly regatta cup to replace the Ferguson cup, which his Kinnelbaw won last season.

The present officers of the yacht club are: Commodore, Charles A. Conklin, Atlanta; vice-commodore, E. H. Outerbridge, New York; rear commodore, Henry Sheaffer, Pottsville, Penn.; treasurer, Colonel C. A. Judkins, Kineo; secretary, George E. Cooley, New York. Prominent members are Charles M. Clark, former Commodore Arthur B. Waring, owner of the handsome motor yacht Isonota; former Commodore John Reilly, Jr., of New York; Henry Feuchtwanger, of Montclair, N. J.; Robert Nye and W. H. Wesson, of Springfield, Mass., owners of two of the fastest boats in the fleet; Thomas Friant, Grand Rapids, Mich.; James K. Clarke, well known sportsman, Ardmore, Penn.; Dr. S. MacCuen, Smith and Allen Smith, Philadelphia; Stanton I. Hanson and Adjutant General Louis M. Stotesbury, of New York. A season of great activity has been planned and many costly prizes are offered for the weekly motor boat races.

Kineo's picturesque golf links is in splendid condition and the course is dotted daily with enthusiasts. Many events are on the calendar of the Northward Ho Golf Club. Prominent members of this organization include Austin J. John, L. Martin, New York; Henry Feuchtwanger, Montclair, N. J.; H. H. Hutchins, Jack Hutchins and Hurd Hutchins, Boston; W. B. Kinley, Philadelphia; Howard A. Colby, Plainfield, N. J.; W. O. Rowland, Jr., Philadelphia; Miss A. K. Robinson and Mrs. M. D. Paterson, of New York, the latter for many years president of the Metropolitan Woman's Golf Club. Semi-weekly handicaps are on the card, and a match between Lawrence Striley, who holds the course professional record, and Tom McNamara, runner-up in the open championship, is being arranged.

The lovers of horseback driving are daily seen on the cool and charming trails about Kineo. Conspicuous among the young people are Miss Ethel Outerbridge, of New York, children of E. H. Outerbridge, and Miss Eleanor Judkins, of Kineo.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Outerbridge will have a number of house parties at their beautiful Kineo camp, Ethelwynd.

The fishermen are still enjoying their wonderful success. Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Tyson, J. J. O'Brien, of New York; Samuel Appleton, of Philadelphia, and John Reding, of Boston, have won places on the roll of honor for good catches.

Among the pleasant social events of the week took place at the Grant House on Wednesday, when Miss Dorothy Schumacher tendered a lawn party to a number of her young friends. The initial golf tournament was held on the Grant House links on Saturday afternoon. Charles E. Russell proved to be a rather easy winner, with C. R. Thompson, a runner-up. In the mixed foursomes J. Flynn and Mrs. F. Walter were victorious.

It's the Big Fish Year in the Saranac Lakes

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Berg Get Eighteen-Pound Pike—Venetian Night and Motor Boat Regatta in Mid-August.

Upper Saranac, N. Y., July 3.—The fishing season in the Adirondacks has been unusual this spring, not so much in the number of fish taken as in the size of the individual fish. Robert Meagher, a small boy, while angling in Upper Saranac Lake caught and landed a small-mouthed black bass that tipped the scales at six pounds. This is the largest bass taken in this section of the mountains in many years. Coincident is the capture of a great northern pike from the Saranac River by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Berg while angling near the state dam. An Archer splinner was used on the trolling line, and the battle which the big fish gave required considerable skill on the part of the angler. When the big fish was put on the scales it was found to weigh eighteen pounds. It had a girth of eighteen inches and measured more than a yard in length. The largest brook trout of many seasons was taken from Lake Clear by Theodore V. Speer. It weighed four and three-quarters pounds. Lake trout anglers here are meeting with excellent success and each day confidently expect that they will round out the prize list by bringing in the record lake trout of the resort. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dixon, of Philadelphia, who are occupying the camp of General Thayer, are daily bringing in good catches of lake trout and black bass.

The camp colony here is an unusual large and active one, and there will be many novel functions introduced. Mrs. W. S. Johnson, whose camp entertainments were among the most recent of last season, has arrived and joined her mother, Mrs. Harries at the Dunlop camp.

Mrs. E. W. Buck
